On Screen Banner text: Welcome to our 1st anniversary show-we’ll be live shortly – have fun

Scott Doonican – Live Frum Barnsley Rock City

Thank you all so much for all of your support over the last year we couldn’t have done any of this without you – Love Scott, Amanda & The gang.

Tonight’s Show is dedicated to Rita White and to all of you who helped us through the last year xxx

First Appearance of : Folking About with Bjorn

Trivia :

Scott has a party hat for the anniversary show.

Scott is wearing Percy coloured socks sent in by Lin Hulme.

Grandpa is thinking of doing his own section doing gardening tips.

Scott doesn’t notice the arrival of Morris after “She’s From Dodworth” and makes himself jump.

Buttons speaks and claims to be a chameleon puppet for accents!

Scott again refers to “The Ornithologist Waltz” as “The Twitcher Song”.

Scott & Amanda received a tin of Quality Street chocolates personalised as Doonican Street.

Quotes :

“We’ve only been doing the show a year, get it right Percy!”

“It hurts your arm that”

“My accents gone again, CIDER!”(Ringo)

“They’re really political these puppets”

“I should have just gone for the original key and belted it”

“Jones The Steam. IVOR, IVOR” (Buttons)

“NO MORE PUPPETS!” (Scott when told there was a cowboy puppet!)

“It’s filth really isn’t it!”

“You made me bad”

“We have a new feature, it’s called get rid of that chuffin’ bell”

Scott’s Tank Top Badges : Dennis The Menace & The Wildhearts

Pre-Show Nerves : (Length: 07:46)

Records Played:

Power In The Darkness (Tom Robinson Band)

General:

Scott: “And now for a political party broadcast from the Big Neet In party.”

He sets a shiny black record spinning. It’s Power In The Darkness, an album by English punk outfit the Tom Robinson Band. Scott went to see Tom play the album for its fortieth anniversary.

Scott classes tonight as the official start of BNI Season 2.

This is a very short and sweet pre-show.

Scott says he’s going to crank up Tom Robinson and get ready for the main show.

Off he goes.

Aftershow : (Length: 39:14)

Location: The Pint & Puppet

Songs Played:

Walk Of Life (Dire Straits)

Nothing Ever Happens (Del Amitri)

Back Street Girl (The Rolling Stones)

Dreaming Of You (The Coral)

Streets Of London (Ralph McTell)

Shit Raffle Winner: Ian Massey & Michael Turner

General:

More Doonicorn action this evening...woo hoo!

Scott's out of breath as while running down to The Pint & Puppet he stopped for a wee, leaving him short on time.

Nick Parker is thanked for being tonight's main show special guest.

Scott grabs his guitar, tries to throw the strap over his head, nearly knocks the Doonicorn off.

He pours himself a beer in a glass sent to him by the Endicotts. Kicks off with a cover of Dire Straits' Walk Of Life.

Doonifan Andrea Wright makes some suggestions for acts she'd like to see on BNI, which leads to a conversation about how Scott met Sound of the Sirens.

One time when he was at Watchet, Jackie who runs the festival called him. He thought he was in trouble as he'd nabbed the keys to Bob Geldof's personal portaloo and used it without permission. In fact, it turned out that Sound of the Sirens had been booked to play but subsequently got asked to do something for Chris Evans. It was a big opportunity for them as they thought it might lead to a spot on TFI Friday, which apparently it did. Jackie had actually called Scott to ask if he could fill the Sirens' slot, allowing them to take the Doonicans' later slot the same day, meaning they could do both gigs. Scott agreed to help out, and they got to know each other through that.

The lovely Nothing Ever Happens by Del Amitri is Scott's second song.

Gloria has received a present. A slightly inebriated Scott digs into the box with a sharp knife. Not knowing what's inside or how close it is to the surface, he says "I don't know if I'm stabbing something int face". After some careful slicing and unpacking he pulls out a toy highland cow with big googly eyes. Gloria is very excited by this, exclaiming "It's a hairy coo!"

Scott continues with a melancholic Rolling Stones number, Back Street Girl. Then heads into The Coral's Dreaming Of You.

He thinks the person who wrote the next song has one of the greatest voices in folk music. It's Ralph McTell and the song is Streets Of London.

Oasis' Half The World Away brings Aftershow #53 to a close.

Goodnights, goodbyes.

Ends.
