On Screen Banner text: Scott Doonican Live Frum Barnsley Rock

First Appearance of :

Trivia :

Amanda spells COVFETE with her magnetic letters before “Big Coffee Brand” in a nod to the infamous Trump misspelt tweet.

Scott announces Cropredy and Beautiful Days themed sets for upcoming BNI’s.

Scott plays the wrong cue during “Festival Heroes” so the “Alan, Alan, Alan” chant is missing.

A still photo of a bear and a human skeleton pops up briefly at the end of the show before the Test Card taken from the BBC comedy “Look Around You 2”.

Quotes :

“Coordination’s not our thing”

“I want a bit of that Alan juice” (Bjorn)

“He’s a furry man”

“I’ve been using Mane ‘n tail”

“Why was there a fish throughout the whole song?”

“I’m terrible at remembering my own lyrics”

“Not a lot of things rhyme with carbon monoxide”

“I had to think in harmony”

“Amanda hates Pink Floyd with a passion”

“It’s a jaunty tune but right miserable”

“This show’s just getting dafter”

“There’s nothing more annoying than kids in pubs except that chuffing horn!”

“Scott had windypops”

Scott’s Tank Top Badges : God Bless Val Doonican, Mike Harding “Captain Paralytic” & I Can You Hear You Clem Fandango (Toast On London)

Pre-Show Nerves : (Length: 7.59)

Records Played:

The Wildhearts’ debut album Earth Vs The Wildhearts

General:

A foot-tapping track from The Wildhearts on spin this evening.

And it’s pastel hues and bananas all round in the tank top/shirt department.

Badges: A pink Val Doonican, a black Mike Harding - Captain Paralytic And The Brown Ale Cowboys, and a small white one saying “I can hear you Clem Fandango”.

Fan greetings.

Will Simister from Crossfire Eagles shows up in the chat thread.

Scott thanks PJ Bryant for the award he sent him and Amanda last week.

Lots more ey ups and hellos.

Scott saw Alan and Bjorn last night at Hilcote Country Club for a “socially distanced drink...which was nice”.

He’s planning a big Big Neet In for show #20.

Big Neet In, the album, is looking like it’s ‘on the cards’.

Scott: “We’ll see yer over on YouTube very very shortly fer...er...fer what hopes to be...er...another fun filled night full of drinking, shenanigans and daftness.”

Aftershow : (Length: 35:08)

Location: The campervan

Songs Played:

Nobody Home (The New York Fund)

Arnold Layne (Pink Floyd)

Sunshine Superman (Donovan)

The Day We Caught The Train (Ocean Colour Scene)

Shit Raffle Winner: Martin Abernethy & Carole Timmons

General:

Opens: Scott grinning like a Cheshire cat.

Ow dos, ey ups, hellos.

Scott says Starman is his first choice for karaoke...followed by Mustang Sally.

It's Yorkshire Day today.

Interesting fact about Mike Harding's band, Captain Paralytic And The Brown Ale Cowboys: Maart Allcock was their bassist. It was his first paid gig.

Performance poet and musician Attila The Stockbroker is watching.

Adrian Smith's 'better half' Kim, knitted Scott a delightful purple and white VW campervan ornament.

Scott wants fans to let him know their favourite BNI moments for show #20, and whether they're liking the puppets. Fans start messaging in straight away, confirming they are liking them.

He says he'll be making an announcement tomorrow morning at 8am regarding BNI, the album.

97 people are watching at 23 minutes in.

The Doonicans should have been at Underneath The Stars festival today.

Suddenly, Scott stands up, opens an overhead cupboard door and announces there's a 'surprise' for Amanda. He pulls out a black and white striped bag, hands it to her. Inside is a small package. After careful unwrapping, it's revealed to be a Jim Henson Award for Best Puppetry from PJ Bryant.

Referring to lockdowns, Scott: "It's shit...we've got each other and that's a lot for love...erm, according to Bon Jovi."

Both say goodnight.
